Volume 30

Dedication

This yearbook honors a teacher whose friendship, loyalty, and guidance have been responsible for carving a successful college life and career for many graduating seniors. Her cheerful disposition, her sense of humor, and her brilliant mind have been an inspiration to all who know her. It is with great pride that we the students of Piedmont Junior and Senior High School dedicate the 1952 Clan-O-Log to a beloved teacher and friend—Evelyn Reyland Sharon.

Our first and last aim in this thirtieth volume of the Clan-O-Log has been to portray the activities and achievements and preserve the happy memories of the students of Piedmont High School.

In trying to make this book representative of all the students we have made several changes and additions. We are giving you autograph pages because you asked for them; in addition we have tried a new type of division page. This year our sports pages have been extended to include golf and tennis; and we hope that you will approve of our new treatment of the boys' clubs.

At this time I would like to express my appreciation to Mr. Robert Clarke, our adviser. Without his essential help we would never have been able to start or finish this Clan-O-Log.

We hope that the material in this book will be of interest and value now and, like family heirlooms, will become more precious as time rolls on.

Superintendent's Message

Another school year has passed and another Clan-O-Log has been published. Another small, but willing and able, group of students has worked to produce a book to carry on the fine tradition and reputation of past Clan-O-Logs. Their success is evident in this splendid yearbook of the activities of the 1951-1952 school year.

Most of the activities recorded in such books vary little from year to year. The greatest variation is in those whose pictures are here recorded as participants in the activities. One of the most important aspects of a yearbook is to show the wide participation of students in the activities which make up the life of the school.

The appearance of new faces in each new book gives convincing evidence of this wide participation. If such participation is good, as we believe it is, then a large number of our students are deriving the benefits which are made available through a wide offering of activities.

Since part of the satisfaction that we receive from participating in various activities is derived from the recognition which is received for it then the Clan-O-Log is playing its part in helping to bring about appropriate recognition and thus lending encouragement to ever-widening participation among our students.

FALL SEMESTER

During the fall semester Miss Caverly's drama classes prepared a series of one-act plays which were presented in an evening performance early in the spring. The first was a modern play entitled, "Table d'Hotes and A la Cartes;" the second, "What Men Live By," was a symbolic Russian story; and the third was a light Chinese fantasy, "The Stolen Prince."

The senior play for the January graduates was "Glamor Boy," the story of a very shy boy who had been the laughing-stock of the school. He became a hero through the realization of his dreams. The principal role was played by Rowan Gaither and Dic Lawson.

The theme of the commencement program was "Essentials for Happiness." Bill Barlow gave the greeting, and Sally Phillips expressed the appreciation of the class.

SPRING SEMESTER

In the spring semester Mr. Logsdon's drama class presented four one-act plays for various occasions. The first was entitled "Permanent," the second, "Bobby Sox," the third, "Thank You, Doctor," and the fourth, "Did You Say Mink?"

The theme of the girls' farewell assembly was "Memories of High School." Several groups of girls acted out short scenes depicting various subjects studied in high school.

The senior class presented "Green Valley," a story taking place in a mythical valley in California. This play shows through a series of fantastic and amusing scenes that a modern farm boy has the same love for his land that his ancestors did. The principal role was played by Stu McKee and John Vasko.

The theme of the graduation was "Who Are We?" The program was presented as a panel discussion with a serious purpose led by two quiz-masters, Budd Symes and Mary Carmine.

The Music Department, under the leadership of Mr. Kenneth Dodson, has again this year played an important role in Piedmont school activities.

An outstanding Piedmont choir won second place in the Northern California Choral Contest held at the University of California. The Choir's Christmas programs included trips to the Berkeley Home Club, the Oakland Masonic Temple, and the annual radio program from Central Bank in Oakland which is broadcast over radio station KROW.

The orchestra provided intermission music for the Senior Play and also played at the graduation exercises, while the band added spirit to the football games.

Neil Van Valkenburgh, Doris Proffitt, Janice Bascom, John Vasko, and Bill Clifford represented Piedmont in the trials for soloist with the Oakland Symphony. Neil and Bill tied for the honor, and compromised by playing a violin duet.

The musical highlights of the year were the Sixth Annual Spring Concert, in which all the divisions of the Music Department participated, and the Northern California Music Contest at Berkeley.

The 1951 football season may definitely be considered a success, in spite of the average record of the Highlanders.

The Clan started the season with a bang by winning their first three practice games. Traveling to Fresno, they rolled over the Warriors by a score of 19 to 6. They then defeated the champions of the O. A. L., Tech High, 13 to 6 with all-county halfback Jack Brough leading the way. The next week the Highlanders edged past a strong Manteca eleven, 25 to 19.

Piedmont opened league competition with a heart breaking tie with El Cerrito, 19 to 19, as a result of a blocked punt by the Gauchos in the final two minutes of the game. The Clan then fought to a 0 to 0 tie with the Alameda Hornets, with defensive play being dominant. Richmond, the A. C. A. L. champions crushed the Highlanders by a score of 34 to 8, although their vaunted running attack was virtually stopped. A pass from Clan quarterback Tom Trutner to Monte Upshaw in the final minute of the game gave Piedmont a sweet victory over the Hayward Farmers, the score being 14 to 13. In the final game of the season, the Highlanders were crushed by Berkeley 26 to 6.

Under the able teaching of Coaches Muentner, Ferry and Johnson, Piedmont played the interesting brand of football which invariably marks Clan teams. This year's team is one of which we are all proud.

Basketball

This year Piedmont High's Varsity Basketball Team wound up in the exact opposite spot from last year—last instead of first. Lack of experience seemed to play the major role in contributing to the unsuccessful season. Even though the record is not impressive, the team had tremendous spirit throughout the year and went into each game with a determination to win. Probably the high point of the season came when Piedmont defeated Hayward in the team's second league encounter. Success with a new offense, much team work, and that ever-present will to win added up to make this contest our best. On an over-all basis the team won two and lost nineteen games this season.

Coach Fritz Wilcox's Junior Varsity started slowly this year, but by the end of league play, it looked like a championship ball club. Good ball handling, an offense which seemed to suit the team perfectly, and fifteen boys who wanted to win basketball games always made attendance at J. V. games very worthwhile. They finished with five wins and twelve losses.

The Piedmont "Bee's" this year finished the season with the best record of any of the three teams; they won seven, lost eleven. Here is another group that should bear watching in coming seasons because most of the team will be returning, some for another three years, to Piedmont.

Track

A spirited track team, outstanding in many events, came through once again in fine style to post another successful season for Piedmont.

Paced by the versatile Monty Upshaw and the consistently winning pole vaulter, John Whalen, the Clansmen met with but one defeat when they were dumped by the Richmond Oilers, who were deep as usual in every department.

Jack Brough and Dick Falge featured in the low hurdles, with Upshaw in the high hurdles. Lou Gerhardy did a fine job in the 880 and John Russell and Pete Brobst showed well in the 440 and 220, respectively.

With Ralph Love out for most of the season, the school probably lost the services of the best miler in the league, but Eddie Baker and Don Schwartz piled up valuable points of their own in this event.

The hard-working relay team was composed of Russell, Hohmann, Brough, and Brobst.

The B's had the most successful team in years, and much can be expected in the future from these younger thinclads.

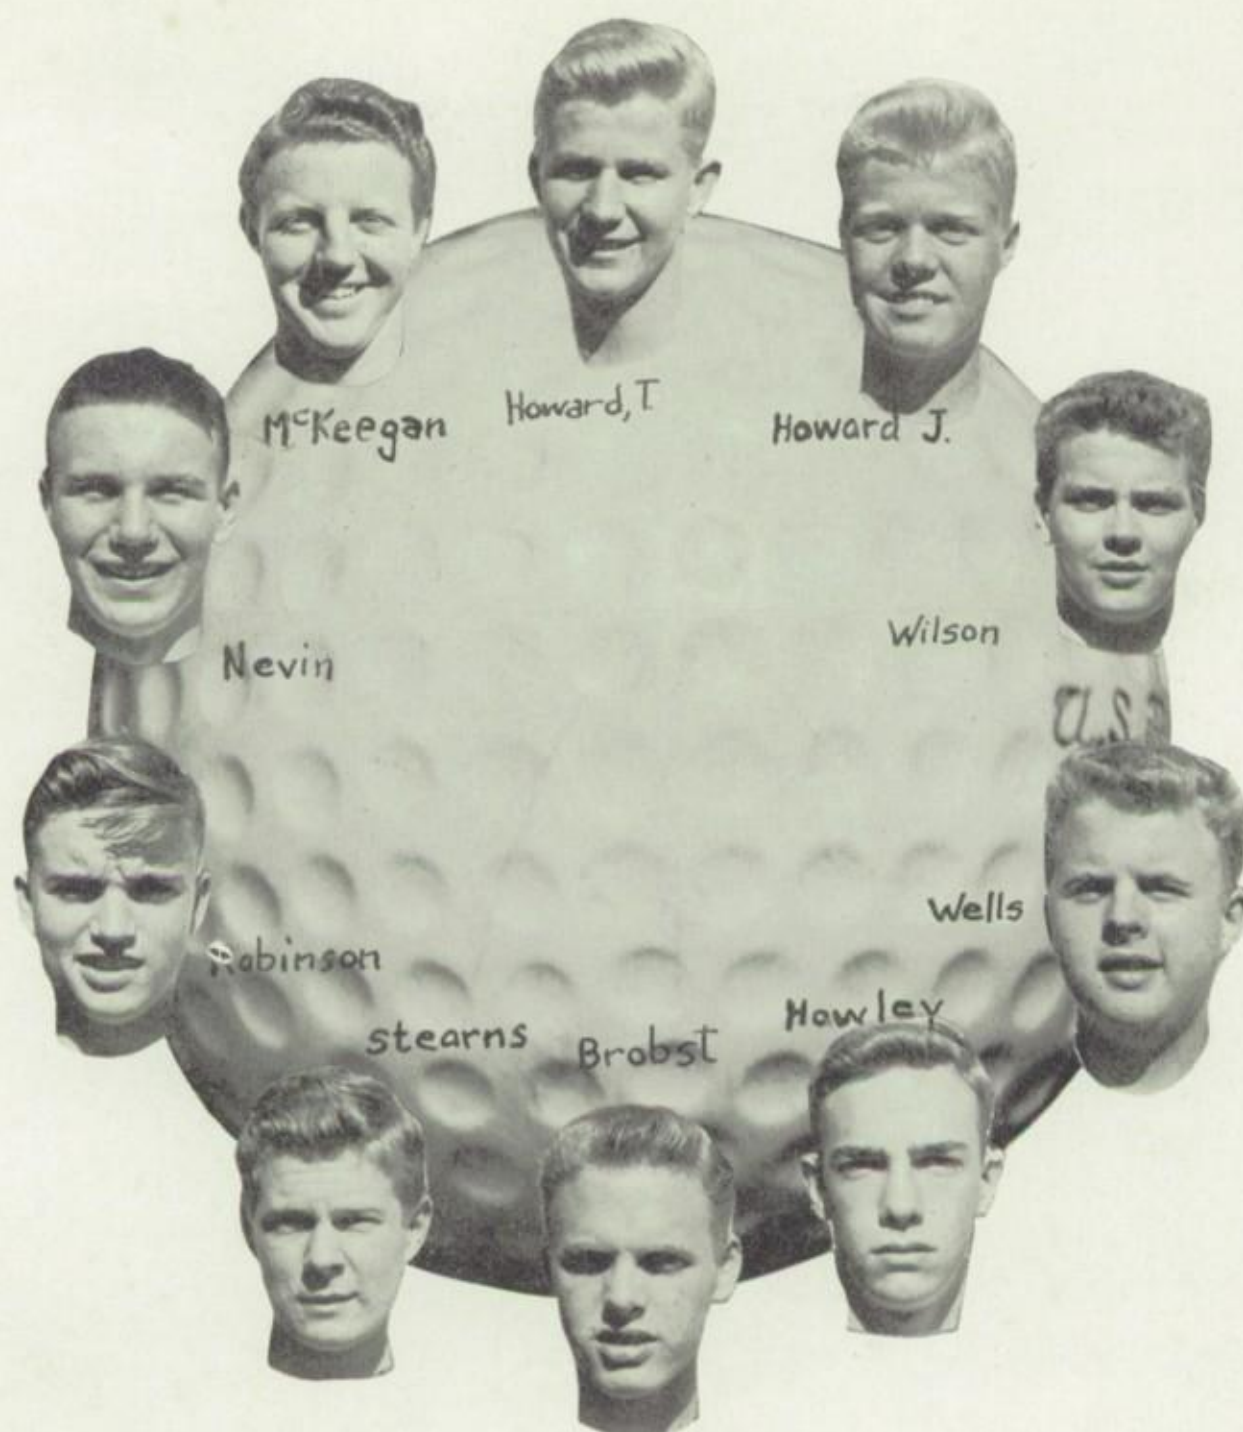

Tennis

The 1952 tennis team was off to a good start, winning every game but one in the first round. As this book goes to print, the team stands in second place, with a good chance of tying for first.

At present the baseball team has not yet begun its regular season. Many of the team members show much promise, and the prospects for a successful year are good.

The golf season, too, has not advanced far yet, but the squad, highlighted by Jay Howard, aided by Tim Howard, Pete Brobst, Wally Hawley, Warren Robinson, and Bill Nevin, is headed for a good year.
